Hearts Full of Gratitude:

OUR WHIDBEY ISLAND Cliffside RV Park

Cliffside RV Park is a hidden gem located on Whidbey Island that promises a perfect family getaway. My family – which includes two energetic young boys – embarked on an unforgettable adventure to this charming destination. Our stay at Cliffside was nothing short of amazing, offering us a serene retreat with breathtaking views and a host of activities to enjoy.

A comfortable home away from home

My family rented one of Cliffside's RV trailers for our stay. We were greeted by their friendly and welcoming staff and an immaculate RV trailer fully equipped with everything we needed. The provided plates, linens, and various equipment and amenities helped to ensure a hassle-free experience. This thoughtful touch made our stay comfortable and stress-free from the moment we arrived. We selected an RV trailer, but they also have furnished yurts and spaces for those with their own RVs.

Endless recreational opportunities

The abundance of recreational activities directly on the grounds were just a few of the highlights of our stay. We didn't need to stray from our area for entertainment, making our time away even more enjoyable. Our kids couldn't get enough of the cornhole games, and we were also introduced to gaga ball – a fast-paced and fun game – that had them engaged for hours. The park's hiking trails allowed us to connect with nature while exploring the island's beauty. Access to the beach was a delightful bonus, providing our family the chance to spend time beachcombing, building sandcastles and taking leisurely strolls along the shore.

Magical sunsets and campfire nights

Perhaps the most enchanting aspect of our experience at Cliffside was the unforgettable sunset views. Every evening, we eagerly gathered around the campsite fire pits to watch the sunset, which painted the sky in a blaze of color. My family roasted marshmallows, shared stories, and enjoyed the warmth of a crackling campfire, creating treasured memories from those cherished moments.

Visiting Cliffside will bring you the beauty and charm of the Pacific Northwest, offering an ideal retreat for visitors seeking a blend of relaxation and adventure. Our stay made for the ideal family escape. The combination of a well-equipped RV, a variety of recreational activities, relaxing by the beach, breathtaking sunset views, and the allure of Whidbey Island itself, created an unforgettable experience. My family and I left with our hearts full of gratitude and memories that will last a lifetime.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT HOMES PROVIDER: A WIN-WIN

SOLUTION for CHILDCARE

Finding quality childcare can be challenging for any parent, but it is especially crucial for those in the Navy to have access to quality care that supports their mission. Whether deployed, on duty, or simply working long hours, Navy parents must know their children are safe, happy and well-cared for in our community. That is why the Navy offers a variety of childcare programs and services to meet the diverse needs of its families.

One of these programs is the Child Development Home (CDH). It allows Navy spouses and other eligible adults to operate a licensed childcare business from their homes. This program provides a valuable service to other Navy families and allows the providers to earn income, gain skills and be their own boss.

What is it like to be a CDH provider? Meet Priyanka Deppe, a Navy CDH provider in Whidbey Island.

WHAT MOTIVATED YOU TO BECOME A CHILD DEVELOPMENT HOME PROVIDER?

Priyanka embarked on her journey a little more than a year ago while searching for childcare for her daughter, an infant at the time. She stumbled upon the concept of the Child Development Home program and recognized the chance to both be with her child and care for others, "I see this role as a true blessing, allowing me to witness my daughter's growth alongside her peers, while also nurturing the development of other children," said Priyanka.

To ensure the highest quality care, applicants go through a comprehensive background check and certification program at the Navy's expense. In return, providers agree to accept children referred to them through militarychildcare.com at pre-established fees based on fair market value. Parents pay a portion of the fee based on their income directly to you. The remaining balance is then paid via a monthly subsidy from the Navy.

HOW HAS THE NAVY SUPPORTED YOU THROUGH THIS JOURNEY?

The CDH program and staff helped her every step in the certification process and by providing toys and furnishing her space. Advice Priyanka gives to aspiring providers is "to research thoroughly, possess patience, and hold a genuine love for children, as the role demands single-handedly managing and nurturing the kids under their care throughout the day."

WHAT ARE THE ADVANTAGES OF A CDH PROVIDER?

Priyanka believes this job has brought unexpected healing and personal growth, transforming her into an independent and professional business owner. Through this experience, she's honed the skills to source resources and build a supportive community within the CDH provider network.

“Research thoroughly, possess patience, and hold a genuine love for children, as the role demands single-handedly managing and nurturing the kids under their care throughout the day.”

As a CDH provider, the program also allows for the flexibility of taking your business with you when relocating to a new Navy installation. The program makes it easy to quickly reopen your CDH business after your move, allowing you to continue your dream of owning your own business, serving Navy families, and not making your business a short-term opportunity.

BE YOUR OWN BOSS AND BECOME A NAVY CHILD DEVELOPMENT HOME PROVIDER

With the Navy CDH provider program, you can go from a dream to reality in just a few short weeks. As a qualified applicant, you'll receive the training and support you need to operate a successful childcare business with little to no startup costs or upfront expenses. Best of all, the skills you learn are in high demand and will transfer quickly to another city or state if you ever must move. For more information about the CDH program.

NAVY SCHOOL LIAISONS

Connecting Military Families,
Commands and K-12 Schools

Did you know?

School transition and deployment support is a Navy readiness and retention issue. The Navy benefits from having Sailors who are able to focus on their duties, whether ashore or deployed.

- Navy families move their children an average of every 2.9 years.
- Children of military personnel attend up to nine different schools by graduation.
- Military families are reluctant to disrupt high school youth in their senior year.
- Deployments can impact educational outcomes of children.
- Many families decide to "separate geographically" to keep children in their current school.

Families, Contact Your School Liaison for Help with:

- Inbound/outbound school transfers
- Youth sponsorship
- Local schools and boundaries
- Finding the right school
- Understanding special education
- Meeting graduation requirements
- Finding military and local support services
- Homeschooling support
- Preparing for college and scholarship information

Navy School Liaisons Provide SEVEN CORE SERVICES to Assist Families:

- 1 School Transition Services (PCS Cycle): School Liaisons assist families with school transfers and help "level the playing field" for military children and youth.
- 2 Deployment Support: School Liaisons connect educators with the military deployment support system to inform them about the cycles of deployment and the tools available to assist educators in working with military children.
- 3 Command, School & Community Communications: School Liaisons serve as subject-matter experts for installation commanders on K-12 issues, helping to connect command, school and community resources.
- 4 Homeschool Linkage and Support: School Liaisons assist military families by gathering and sharing information on home-schooling issues, policies and legislation from local school districts, and help leverage military Child and Youth Program resources to support these families.
- 5 Partnerships in Education (PIE): PIE creates a volunteer network of resources to support installation and community members who have a vested interest in the success of all youth.
- 6 Post-Secondary Preparations: School Liaisons leverage installation and school resources to provide graduating military students with access to post-secondary information and opportunities.
- 7 Special-Needs System Navigation: School Liaisons provide information about installation and community programs and services, make referrals to the Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP), and offer assistance in navigating the administrative systems within local education agencies.

NAVY CHILD CARE PROGRAMS

Learn about military child care programs and quality care.

Choosing child care may be one of the most important decisions you'll make as a parent, and it can be hard to know where to start. Learn more about military child care program options and helpful resources below.

Start Here: MilitaryChildCare.com

MilitaryChildCare.com is a DoD website that helps families find and request military-operated child care anywhere in the world. Search for full- and part-time care, including before- and after-school care, as well as summer and holiday camps. Get started by creating an account at MilitaryChildCare.com and submit a request for care.

Child Development Centers, Child Development Homes (CDH) and School-Age Care. You have options.

Child development centers, or CDCs, are located on installations and generally offer care for infants through pre-school age children. Child Development Homes are certified professionals who provide child care for infants through school-age children in their homes, located either on or off an installation. School-Age Care, or SAC, programs provide care to children in kindergarten through sixth grade.

Hourly child care? You've got it.

Through Military OneSource, parents now have free access to a national database to search for hourly, flexible and on-demand child care. You can even interview caregivers through the service. It's easy to access and is a virtual solution that allows you to choose, hire and pay providers on your terms.

Child Care In Your Home Fee Assistance Program

Fee assistance for families who have determined that full-time, in-home child care is the best solution to meet their needs.

The Child Care in Your Home pilot program has a limited number of child care spaces and is only available in select locations.

For assistance, call Military OneSource consultants, available 24/7/365, at 800-342-9647 or schedule a live chat.

Military Child Care in Your Neighborhood

Fee Assistance for Community-Based Child Care

As a military parent, you want access to affordable, quality child care. You may be eligible to receive fee assistance through Military Child Care in Your Neighborhood (MCCYN). The Department of Defense offers fee assistance to reduce the out-of-pocket expense of child care in the community.

Military families are the backbone of our nation's defense. They provide unwavering support to our service members, who in turn, protect our country with valor and honor. However, navigating the complexities of Navy life can be overwhelming for many loved ones. Trying to wade through the waters of caretaking, networking, deployment and homecoming preparations – and even just knowing where to find basic information on Navy life – can be a daunting task for many loved ones. Enter Family Readiness Groups (FRG), integral components of the Navy lifestyle, helping to shape a support community for a common experience.

An FRG is the support network families can turn to for resources rather than tackling challenges alone. They can help welcome and mentor young people who are new to Navy life. They can provide valuable information on what to expect from a service member's next deployment, or assist with a personal crisis that may occur while a service member is underway.

"The FRG's main goal is to provide support for every family in our command," Rachel Burkholder says.

Rachel is an FRG president for a patrol squadron at Naval Air Station Whidbey Island. "Being a part of the FRG gives our families a place to meet new friends and feel like they have someone to ask questions to about the new area they find themselves in, or things that come up being a military family,"

Belonging to a robust FRG helps ensure a pathway to positive outcomes for family members and service members. Lasting friendships are woven, bolstered by the shared experiences and understanding that bind Navy families together. The satisfaction derived from aiding others and the sense of pride in contributing to a greater cause uplift both members and the broader community.

"FRGs create a sense of camaraderie within the military community," Tara Dotson says, Naval Station Everett fitness specialist and former Sailor and current Navy spouse. Her background and experience provide a unique perspective on the crucial role of the FRGs in supporting military families. "During deployments, they may organize monthly or quarterly get-togethers to provide support and a sense of belonging."

The anxiety for service members and family members during deployments can be alleviated through the sense of unity cultivated within the FRG, which can act as a buffer against the strains of separation.

"Having a place to connect and make friends with other people who understand what you are going through is essential to good mental health," Rachel says.

The value of an effective FRG shines even brighter when they can provide military families – especially those experiencing their first deployment – knowledge about available resources, the companionship of newfound friends, and engaging activities, ensuring families of deployed service members are better equipped to navigate the challenges that come their way.

Com

If a command needs to establish an FRG, the Fleet and Family Support Center (FFSC) from Fleet and Family Readiness can help provide the necessary guidance for creating one. FRGs require their own bylaws and FRG leadership must be properly trained to liaise with commands and steer the group toward success. FFSC is also able to support established FRGs with refresher training and resources.

“Fleet and Family Support Center can provide you with a two-day course that will give you the knowledge and tools necessary to start up and operate an effective FRG that can support families before, during and after deployment,” Naval Base Kitsap FFSC Work and Family Life Supervisor, Terry Wimmer says. She also notes FFSC FRG coordinators can assist the FRGs in attracting and motivating members, financial planning, fundraising policies, event planning, homecoming and other social gatherings, and operation preparedness and emergency response.

A strong support system for military families cannot be understated, which is why FRGs play such a vital role in our military communities. They also serve as an integral extension from commands to service members’ families. FRGs contribute to a resilient overall well-being, from disseminating important information to boosting morale by keeping service members’ families well cared for during deployments.

“Whether it’s offering emotional support, providing practical assistance, or creating a network of understanding, our FRG is there to support our community,” Rachel says.

New to Family Readiness Groups or looking to establish an FRG group for your command? Contact your local FRG coordinator at the FFSC or visit whidbey.navylifepnw.com/fleet-family/family-support for information on how you can enhance your FRG or lead the effort in starting one for your command.

You can attend a workshop and meet other new Navy spouses, gather informational materials, get help with finding a job or a volunteer opportunity or learn about educational opportunities.

EMOTIONAL SUPPORT SERVICES

We all experience ups and downs in life. At some point, just about everyone needs help coping with stress caused by life's many challenges. Stress can be caused by work, family hardships, marital conflicts, parent/child issues, money concerns, frequent moves, health and environmental factors, and other difficulties. Talking about our problems with family or friends can be helpful, but often this just isn't enough. Sometimes it helps to talk to an experienced counselor.

Fleet & Family Support Centers (FFSC) offer confidential (the command is not notified) counseling by professional, licensed clinicians. FFSC clinical counselors hold a master's or doctorate-level degree in counseling, social work or psychology. Their professional services are free of charge to active-duty personnel and family members.

If you are troubled and need someone to talk to, just ask FFSC for an appointment. You do not need a referral from your command or health-care provider. Visit your FFSC or scan the QR code to learn more.

PARENTHOOD

Becoming a new parent is a time for excitement and joy as well as confusion and anxiety. So many questions come up and even worse, there are usually a million different answers! If you are feeling anxious, this is common and you are NOT alone.

New Parent Support Staff, part of the Fleet & Family Support Center, can assist you with in-home visits after the baby is born to help smooth the transition to new parenthood. New Parent Staff can also help with parenting toddlers and preschool children up to age four.

To better prepare for the changes in the family dynamic, FFSC offers comprehensive parenting programs and early child development education classes to help foster healthy parenting practices so you can thrive as a healthy family.

Visit your FFSC or scan the QR code to learn more about classes such as Positive Parenting, Daddy Boot Camp, Baby Talk and pregnancy support groups.

SERVICE MEMBER DEPLOYMENT

Deployments are a way of life for military service members and their families. Whether single or married, there are effective ways of meeting the unique challenges of a Navy lifestyle. Fleet & Family Support Centers (FFSC) work closely with commands, Ombudsmen, Family Readiness Groups, individuals, and families to provide resources and assistance during all phases of the deployment cycle.

Pre-deployment information is presented around five core elements that Sailors and their families should review and update as they prepare for deployment: documents, finances, communication, relationships and resources. Mid-deployment help for families include stress-reduction classes, mind and body mental fitness classes and countless other resources. Homecoming can also shed light on problems in a relationship, and FFSC understand those hurdles too and can provide support and resources to assist.

Any point of a deployment can be uniquely difficult and FFSC is here to help you get through it. Visit your FFSC or scan the QR code to learn more.

EMPLOYMENT

Fleet & Family Support Centers (FFSC) can help you pursue the career of your dreams! We understand the frustrations that are common to military families such as frequent moves. We can help you focus on a career that can follow you from base to base.

We offer FREE support with resume writing, interview techniques, job search strategies, workshops for teen employment, Myers Briggs Type Indicator to assist your future career search, WA state employment, Military Spouse Employment Program (MSEP), and Spouse Education and Career Opportunities (SECO), including scholarship resources. Visit your FFSC or scan the QR code to learn more.

If you already have a career, FFSC has a wide variety of resources including information related to how professional licenses can transfer from one state to another.

LIFE SKILLS EDUCATION

Life Skills education can help you recognize your unique abilities and take control of your life. We are now living in the "Choose Who You Are" era and nothing is more important than personal empowerment. Our core classes, Stress Management, Anger Management, Communication Skills and Conflict Resolution provide tools helpful in living a positive, empowered and fulfilled life. Mind-Body Mental Fitness (or MBMF) is a stress-resiliency program designed to help Sailors, their families, and their commands better understand how to cope with the stressors that are presented through the Navy lifestyle by learning to manage the four Domains of Resilience.

For those leaving the area, we offer Smooth Move classes and relocation workshops that can help plan for success. We have counselors for individuals or families who have trouble transitioning. Our career center can help you transfer your license to a new state or the tools to look for a new job when you get there.

EXCEPTIONAL FAMILY MEMBER SUPPORT

The Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP) ensures service members will be assigned to a location where the special needs of the family will be met. EFMP is a mandatory program for spouses, children, and dependent family members, who require special medical, psychological, or educational services.

The Exceptional Family Member will then be assigned a category according to diagnosis, availability of care and intensity of care. Category 1 is the least complex, while 5 is the most complex, Category 6 is for temporary placement in the EFM program, for example, high-risk pregnancy or a premature infant.

The category assigned to a family member will impact what duty stations a family can accompany their service member, however, enrollment in EFMP does not affect one's career, as promotion boards are unaware of EFM status.

The Fleet & Family Support Center can help with the needs of the whole family and the challenges families might face. Visit your FFSC or scan the QR code to learn more.

PERKS

10 Great Reasons to Work for FFR

Contributed by navylifepnw Staff

Get in on the Navy Life as a federal government employee! Fleet & Family Readiness (FFR) jobs offer competitive pay, medical insurance, retirement savings and tons of other perks.

As an FFR Employee ...

1. Competitive Pay. Federal Civil Service positions on base aim to be equivalent to similar positions in the local community. Full-time and regular part-time employees are also eligible for a retirement plan, 401(k), annual leave, sick leave, military leave, administrative leave, parental leave, court leave, overtime pay, holiday pay, Sunday premium pay and shift differential.

2. Affordable outdoor rentals and trips to explore the Pacific Northwest. MWR Outdoor Recreation Centers are your one-stop shop for outdoor activities — from helping plan a trip to renting snowshoes, kayaks, tents and bikes. They also have backyard party items like horseshoes, barbecues and ice chests. Visit with friendly staff and get info on where to go and what to do. They'll make sure you are properly outfitted with gear to make your adventure complete.

3. Free gym membership. The state-of-the-art fitness centers on each base give you access to cardio equipment, free weights, TRX, spin bikes, outstanding group fitness classes and much more! Fitness equipment orientations, fitness assessments and facility tours are also available to ensure you know what to do to achieve your desired fitness goals.

4. Extra savings toward retirement. FFR offers a 401K plan (an additional retirement savings account). For every dollar you put in the plan, they will match it, up to 3% of your salary. That's a pretty good deal; you can automatically double your money.

5. Military Discounts apply to you. Most companies that give military discounts also give discounts to DoD employees. You are eligible for services that cater to military personnel, such as American Forces Travel, GovX and shop.id.me. Several hotels will also allow you to get the military rate, even if not traveling on military orders. On base you can shop tax free and fill up your gas tank for less at the Navy Exchange (NEX). Always be prepared to show your ID.

6. Career planning and training available; never feel stuck. FFR offers on-going training and professional development. Once a part of the federal work force, you can also take classes at a Fleet & Family Support Center to improve your skills or rebuild your resume.

7. TSA PreCheck® for free. Federal civilian employees are able to opt-in to TSA PreCheck®. Save your DoD ID number as your known traveler number when booking a ticket and travel through the airport with ease.

8. Keep your kids having fun. As a federal civilian employee, your base access allows your kids to play! Some bases have bowling, fishing ponds, playgrounds, STEM kits, crafts, libraries, the Child & Youth Programs have Youth & Teen Centers available, and movie theaters have family films. Most on-base activities for the family applies to you too!

9. Getaways all over world. DoD lodging offers hotels, cabins, cottages and more, anywhere a U.S. military base is located. A cottage in Pacific Beach or hotel in Italy, the reasonable rates make traveling a breeze. Check availability at <https://www.dodlodging.net>

10. 10 paid holidays! Depending on your job, you'll either get paid to enjoy the day off or earn extra holiday pay if you are scheduled to work on one of the 10 federally recognized holidays. Regular full-time and regular part-time workers also start earning sick leave and vacation leave each pay cycle. Regular full-time employees start to earn 13 vacation days per year. The longer you stay in federal service, the more vacation days you earn.
